

IMMACULATE KOBUSINGYE

I am Immaculate Kobusingye. I am 23 years old (born 11 November 1985) and I live in the suburbs of Kampala, Uganda. I am a born-again Christian and I go to Jesus Power Church in Makindye, Kampala, Uganda.

I was born in a family that was not well off. Due to financial problems, my dad was able to pay for my education only up to Senior 4. I tried to get a job but unfortunately they needed people with more education than I had. During that time, I was really sad and desperate because I used to admire those with a better life. I cried to the Lord that He would come to my rescue.

God does not forget his people. After Brother Todd Klipp visited our church in Uganda, he became our friend and a father to many. One time he sent me an e-mail telling me that he wanted to send me back to school. I couldn't believe it. I thought maybe I was dreaming because it was something I had wanted for such a long time. I am now going to school and taking a Procurement course at Career Institute. I strongly believe that this will help me to achieve my goal of getting a good job and I know my dreams will come true in God's time.

I thank God for Brother Todd who accepted God's call to carry our burdens and to be a blessing in my life. Everyone is important but there are people who mean a lot in others' hearts. Brother Todd means a lot to me particularly because now I have hope and I believe my life will soon change.

I humbly request that whoever reads this, please remember my Brother Todd and his family in your prayers. I know it's not only one man's decision but behind him there must be a merciful woman who has a kind heart for people like me in Uganda. May God bless them abundantly. I will never forget them in my prayers. They have a special place in my heart.

March 2009

“God does not forget his people...
...Now I have hope and
I believe my life will soon change.”